INTRODUCTION AND BACKGROUND

The proper administration of substance abuse programs has become a complex task. It demands knowledge, skills, and abilities in areas where formal training and education have not previously been established.

The individual who provides these services may be referred to as a “SAPA,” an acronym for Substance Abuse Program Administrator or “DAPA,” an acronym for “Drug & Alcohol Program Administrator.” The essential functions of a SAPA/DAPA are to design, organize and administer services to promote alcohol and drug-free workplaces. These services are intended to improve health and productivity for all workers, decrease accidents and reduce the many costs associated with substance abuse.

A SAPA/DAPA must also assure that programs are operated in compliance with applicable state and federal regulations, as well as company policies. Other concerns of the SAPA/DAPA, whether directly employed by the organization or retained to serve in this capacity, include assuring that the program adheres to generally accepted standards for substance abuse administrative services, testing, training, medical review, confidentiality and business ethics.

CCDAPP, the Certification Commission for Drug and Alcohol Program Professionals, is a nonprofit corporation dedicated to enhancing the quality and level of professional knowledge and skills of individuals providing drug and alcohol testing and related services to the public. CCDAPP is the national certifying body for drug and alcohol industry professionals who have chosen to be recognized as Certified Substance Abuse Program Administrators (CSAPA) or Certified Drug & Alcohol Program Administrators (CDAPA) with demonstrated proficiency in their field.

CSAPAs are generalists who are familiar with all federally-mandated drug and alcohol testing programs. CDAPAs are professionals with similar expertise and training, but who specialize in a single federal agency’s regulations. A professional with expert knowledge in agency-specific regulations may seek certification as:

DAPA-A	Aviation	DAPA-T	Transit
DAPA-CG	Coast Guard	DAPA-R	Railroad
DAPA-MC	Motor Carriers	DAPA-P	Pipeline

BENEFITS

A “consumer” seeking the service of a SAPA/DAPA may have little or no understanding of the requirements, yet must choose a “provider” who is truly knowledgeable. Organizations that employ or contract with an individual for SAPA/DAPA services now have a means to readily identify an individual who has demonstrated capability in this field by virtue of the CSAPA or CDAPA credential.

While the certification process is completely voluntary, it is highly recommended for both in-house (directly employed) or outside program administrators as a means of verifying qualifications.

ELIGIBILITY

CCDAPP has developed national certification examinations and a credentialing process to identify those who have the knowledge, skills and abilities to perform the functions of a SAPA/DAPA. Before candidates can take any certifying examination, they must meet the following minimum criteria:

EXAMINATION STUDY GUIDE

Upon receipt of your completed application and requisite certifying examination fee, you will be provided an electronic Study & Resource Guide. Prepared by CCDAPP, the guide was developed to cover each examination subject area and will assist you in developing a study plan and strategy as you prepare for the certifying examination.

CERTIFYING EXAMINATION

After meeting the eligibility requirements, you must pass the certification examination. The examination is designed to identify those who have the knowledge, skills and abilities to perform the functions of a SAPA/DAPA. The exams are available proctored or online.

COPYRIGHT

The CSAPA and CDAPA designations are used solely by individuals who have been granted written use permission exclusively from CCDAPP. These designations may not be used at any time without written permission from CCDAPP. Individuals are granted use of these designations upon completion of CCDAPP certification which includes approval of submitted education and experience, and successful completion of the designation exam. Individuals who successfully complete the re-certification process are granted written permission to continue use of these designations. Continued use of these designations by individuals who have not successfully completed the re-certification process as required is expressly prohibited. The information contained in the Study & Resource Guide, on the CCDAPP website, the exams (written and electronic) and other CCDAPP materials are copyright materials which are the sole property of CCDAPP and may not be used without express written permission from CCDAPP.

SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS

If you have a disability and require a special accommodation to take the certifying examination, your application must indicate that you are requesting an accommodation. Additionally, the application must be accompanied by a letter from a licensed health care professional familiar with your disability (e.g., physician, psychologist or other health care professional) and provide the following:

- diagnosis of your disability
- basis for the diagnosis (e.g., examination, test, results, etc.)
- appropriate accommodation for you

If additional testing time is the recommended accommodation, the licensed health care professional must specifically identify the length of time needed (unlimited time or untimed is not acceptable).

If an accommodation is not requested by the application deadline, CCDAPP cannot guarantee the availability of the accommodation. If you are requesting the same accommodation(s) for a subsequent certifying examination, a copy of your approval letter for the accommodation must be submitted with your application. If you are requesting a different accommodation, you must submit new documentation as described above.

NOTE: A language barrier is not considered a disability.

CANDIDATE APPLICATION

To apply for admission to the certifying examination, you must meet the applicable eligibility criteria described in this Information Guide. In addition, you must fully complete the applicable Candidate Application and Documentation of Experience form. It is extremely important to submit all the required documentation and requisite fees together. Failure to do so will delay the review of your credentials.

Candidates are permitted up to four weeks after the certifying examination date to provide documentation to substantiate the required hours of substance abuse related training (CSAPA=40, CDAPA=16). Failure to do so may render the candidate ineligible to receive examination results and/or certification.

In order for the Commission to verify your experience in each of the content areas, it is necessary for you to submit a Documentation of Experience form from each person who supervised you or an individual who can verify and will certify your experience in any one or more of these areas. For example, if you work(ed) for a large Third-Party Administrator, the owner or president of the company might be the appropriate person. If you are the owner/president, the MRO and SAP you work with could provide the verification. An in-house administrator may seek to have the department supervisor, director of human resources, etc., to verify experience.

Please be advised these individuals may be contacted to verify authenticity of the information submitted.

In the event a candidate does not complete the documentation of training as described, the certifying examination may be taken again within 12 months of the original examination date. In such instances, a re-examination fee is required as indicated on the fee schedule.

Summary of Application Process

1. Submit completed applicable Candidate Application and Documentation of Experience forms indicating you meet the eligibility requirements; and
2. Submit a copy of legal documents explaining different names on the Candidate Application and supporting documents, if applicable; and
3. Submit a copy of certified translation of the legal document, if the legal document is not in English; and
4. Submit payment. Make checks or money orders payable to "CCDAPP" in U.S. funds only. CCDAPP accepts most major credit cards and ACH payments via electronic invoice. Please see the CDAPA Application Form for details.
